THE HEARTBEAT

“Fantasy Land”

Are the places we have in our minds real or not? Do we have a utopia conjured in our intellect where things are ideal? Or maybe there is a place you can go where you consider to be peaceful and totally relaxing? I would then ask the question, is the place relaxing or is it the state of mind it evokes relaxing? And you're thinking all these questions are far from relaxing!

Here is a question: Is New York City a real place? Of course it is. We see pictures of it even if we have never been there, we can find it on the map, and if we wanted, we could drive there. The same could be said about any other place on the planet. But how do we know they exist if we have never been there? Do we know with certainty that Moscow, Russia really exists even though few of us can say we've been there?

Keeping in mind the questions I previously asked, do we create fantasy lands in our minds? For any young couple just starting out who have their dream home in mind, the response would be yes. But does that home exist? Now we're getting into the realm of maybe it does and maybe it doesn't. That doesn't stop us from creating it in our mind, however.

Walter Elias Disney was an animator, producer, voice actor, and entrepreneur who had a dream. His imagination as an animator brought several innovations to the animated cartoon world. At some point he had to ask himself, “Can I bring these characters to life in a real place?” Disney bought a 160-acre tract of land near Anaheim, CA in 1953 and construction began the following year on his “fantasy land.” It would be a place where fantasy characters could come to life and a place where children's dreams would be made. The entire construction project lasted less than a year and Disneyland opened its gates to the public in 1955. It was the realization of what one could fantasize, one could create.

Places exist because there is proof of their existence, even though we may never have visited the site. Does Jerusalem exist? Does the Dead Sea exist? Does the Garden of Gethsemane exist? Certainly all do. Even though we may never have visited them, we can read about them in the Bible and we know for certainty they are there. But does Heaven exist?

We can call our individual “Utopias” our little slice of Heaven or our Heaven on earth, but does Heaven really exist? Even though we may never have laid eyes on Heaven nor more than we have ever been to Moscow, Russia, we can say with certainty the place exists.

Jesus told His disciples as recorded in the Gospel of John, “My Father's house has many rooms; if that were not so, would I have told you that I am going there to prepare a place for you?” Jesus, God the Son, cannot lie. If He said a place exists, it is there. But just where is the question.

Heaven is real, just as real as New York City. Jesus is the way to it and He has the map. That's the clue to finding it!!

RE: NEW WOMEN'S BIBLE STUDY – “14 Signs of the End of Time”

Dear Mountainside Ladies –

I am excited to tell you about our new Women's Bible Study beginning...

Wednesday February 4, 2026 @ 2:00pm in Classroom B

Pastor Doug has offered to teach our next Women's Bible Study class, and the title is “14 Signs of the End of Time”. This is the same study that he recently completed with our Men's group. It is an in-depth study. Doug has spent a tremendous amount of time and effort to this end, and I hear great things about this study. The subject will captivate and enlighten us in many ways.

If you would like to attend this study, please let me know via email, phone, or text. You DON'T HAVE TO pre-register so please feel free to just show up because we want you to join us regardless.

The first class will begin on Wed. 1/28/26 @ 2pm in our Classroom B.

I am looking forward to seeing you there and think this will be a wonderful time of learning and fellowship.

In Christ,

Karen Rutan

Servers need to be at the club by 3:00pm on. Serving starts around 3:30pm and is usually completed by 4:30pm. The food will be prepared by our own Terry Crumpler, and will be delivered to the club prior to our arrival.
